Bond Issue Vital to Texas; Will Not Tax Property

Says Bonds Needed

EDGAR WITT
Lieutenant Governor

If the State of Texas is to keep faith with President Roosevelt's Recovery program the people must vote for the amendment on August 26 giving the Legislature authority to issue bonds to the amount of $20,000,000.00, if needed, to carry on reljef in the state.

You will not be voting bonds, but vesting in the legislature power to meet a cirsis as it may develop. These bonds will not be issued unless absolutely needed.

Work in Milam

In Milam county since January 1, 1933, there has been spent over $28,000.00 for relief. All of this money has come from Federal funds appropriated by Congress for relief. This money was advanced to the states upon this condition, that each state should match such Federal funds for relief. This the state of Texas has not done because under our Constitution, the Legislature does not have the authority to donate or spend funds for this purpose.

At the present time there are in Texas approximately 1,270,000 people being fed wholly by Federal funds, and approximately 800 in Milam county. Federal funds are being expended in Texas at the present time at the rate of $2,000,000.00.

This Federal aid will be withdrawn if Texas fails to do her part and pass the authority on to the legislature.

Must Have Aid

Should the amendment fail to pass Federal aid will be taken away, and the problem of taking care of the sick, hungry and destitute thousands and millions will fall upon the local communities. All are aware of the problems that now face local com-

WITT WILL SUPPORT STATE BOND ISSUE

Austin—Lieutenant Governor Edgar Witt of Waco, an original opponent of the proposed constitutional amendment permitting the legislature to issue relief bonds, today announced that after acquainting himself with the relief situation he believes it would be a tragedy not to adopt the proposal.

"When the legislature submitted the proposed amendment last spring," said the lieutenant governor, "I was hopeful that we would not need Federal aid in Texas. But there have been developments since then, and I have learned the true and dark picture of suffering in Texas and I now believe it would be sheer tragedy to defeat the relief bonds.

"In the first place the drouth and crop failures in certain sections change the picture from what it was three months ago. I am told authoritatively that before the end of this winter there may be as high as 80 per cent of all the inhabitants of some Panhandle counties who will have to be publicly fed. So much Texas cotton has been plowed up and crops are so short that the usually dependable labor of cotton picking will be reduced by more than half of normal.

"Twenty per cent of our population is now on relief rolls, but that is only a part of the picture. More than that proportion are unemployed, using the last of their reserves or savings, but not yet on the relief rolls. This class will be the first absorbed in the re-employment provided by the National Recovery Act, leaving those on the rolls still to be publicly maintained.

"Some people don't like what they call setting a precedent in voting bonds. I don't like it either, but we are confronted with a condition and not a theory. Two years ago the people, by a direct vote, authorized the legislature to spend money on a Centennial celebration but it has taken cognizance of the depression and has not appropriated any money for that purpose. I am certain that if the people vote to trust the relief bonds to the legislature, not one dollar more than needed will be issued and the whole issue will be safeguarded against waste, extravagance and corruption.

LOCAL OPTION ELECTION ORDERED FOR COUNTY

In compliance with the provisions of the proposed amendment submitted by the legislature of Texas to legalize 3.2 beer in Texas and the sale of wines, the Commissioners Court has ordered an election to be held in Milam county on Saturday, August 26.

This local option election was authorized by a petition signed by voters in the county. Milam county voted dry in December of 1917. In order to legalize the sale of beer and wines in the county a local option election is necessary as the amendment proposal protects all dry territory in the county unless by vote the people in each of the subdivisions so voting elect by vote to change the old order.

The court at a previous meeting had called the election on request of citizens but it was necessary to call the election not more than 20 days prior to the voting date. No tickets are yet available for absentee voting.

Miss Tabbie Robinson is back from a two week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Mort Lyles and family in Temple; and also visited friends and relatives in Kemper.

Most Popular and Most Beautiful

These two girls received high honors from the student body of Texas State college for Women, Denton, Texas, during the summer session. Miss Millet was selected the most popular girl in school and Miss Jetton was named the most beautiful in a vote of the students. The voting was conducted by the Lass-O, student newspaper.

CONGRESSMAN BAILEY TO SPEAK FOR WETS

Repeal forces in Milam county will launch their drive for Repeal and the legal sale of 3.2 beer with a big rally on the Court House Lawn in Cameron, Monday evening, August 14th at 8 o'clock.

Joseph W. Bailey, Jr., Congressman from Dallas will be the principal speaker. Mr. Bailey is a very able speaker and will bring to the people of Milam county the importance of the issue to be voted on August 26th.

Those in charge of the repeal campaign say that speakers will show in their addresses on Monday night that controlled sale of beer and light wines will be much better for the country than uncontrolled sale of liquors in the hands of bootleggers and speakeasies.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Long Will Reside In Waco

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Long and family, who have made their home in Cameron for a number of years have moved to Waco to make their home. Their many friends will regret to know of their departure and commend them to the citizenship of Waco.

During their yeas in Cameron they have been active in social and religious services. Mr. Long has been agent for the Humble Oil & Refining Company and has a host of friends in the county who will wish for him success in his new location at Waco.

The public is cordially invited to attend this rally. Mr. Jones is an outstanding speaker and will present the dry appeal in an able way. This is the first public rally to be held in Cameron by the dry forces.

NO TICKETS AVAILABLE FOR ABSENTEE VOTING

With only 13 days remaining until the August 26th election to allow absentee voting, no tickets were available for Milam county voters up to Thursday noon.

County Auditor Conn R. Isaacs was making every effort to get tickets.

It was believed tickets had been included in the order for election supplies but when the supplies arrived it was found the printers did not supply them. Tickets are being furnished this year by large state printers as a punishment to a small number of plants in Texas now manufacturing election supplies.

In addition to their regular state tickets a ticket for the local option election will be printed. So far no voter has been able to cast an absentee vote.

Enjoining the Boycott

(Reprinted from New York Herald Tribune)

Exactly the thing which was most to be feared from the incitement of a patriotic drive to "put over" the blanket code—the boycott—has been advocated in the appeal to the Nation's clubwomen by the president of their general federation. Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, in a letter to the heads of the 14,000 women's clubs in the federation, asks that they point out to their members "the advantage of supporting the stores and other establishments which are listed as members of the NRA and, as far as possible, not to favor those who seek temporary advantage by failing to sign the President's re-employment agreement."

As this letter was made public through the National Recovery Administration it was naturally assumed that its sentiments had official sanction. But now it is gratifying to learn that such is not the case, at least for the present. General Johnson, very wisely sensible of the dynamite contained in the appeal of the sort, has issued a plea that the public refrain from entering at once on a program of dealing only with firms which display the NRA insigna. He explains that the readjustment of working conditions to comply with the blanket code is proving very difficult in many cases and particularly among small employers, and expresses the hope that consumers will deal fairly with the employer who is willing to enroll under the blue eagle but needs time to adapt his establishment to its requirements.

We wish to commend him for his injunction and to suggest that he make it permanent. There is no call now, and there should never be, for concerted action to drive from business those slow to join the movement. It is perfectly evident that enough pressure will be brought to bear in any event to induce most of these employers who can qualify for the NRA emblem. If among those who fail to do so there may be some who deliberately refuse, the great majority, one may be sure, will simply be choosing between noncompliance and insolvency. Should the latter be whipped with the scorpions of public wrath for the sake of reaching the former? And if they are, what will become of their contribution to the aggregate of employment?

Not only for its injury to the very cause for which it would be invoked—the employment of the greatest number—but on principle, the boycott should be considered taboo. Society has pronounced it illegal when exercised against a specific individual. It is no less indefensible when used as a weapon against a group.

CODE VIOLATORS GIVEN WARNING

Compliance with the national covenant of recovery has become more than just a mere parade. It was apparent from the beginning that no appreciable effort was being made to comply with the code. Merchants who open and close their doors at hours different from those in effect prior to July 1 are violating the code and will be disciplined if they do not set their houses in order. Thousands of retailers throughout the country have failed in a large measure to comply. Unless there is full co-operation the program will not succeed. It must succeed.

Washington, Aug. 9—Citing that the intent of the recovery act was to increase employment, Administrator Hugh S. Johnson said today in a statement that no retailer could stagger emplöye hours, enforce rest periods or shorten the hours of store operation without defeating the purpose of the codes.

Significant Report

His emphatic assertion immediately took place among the most significant yet to come from the NRA, in view of constant reports as to recourses for getting around the codes and yet displaying the blue eagle.

Inquiries on this point have increased of late, while the officials have plugged ahead at other aspects of making the law effective.

Johnson insisted that while the agreement signed by retail stores and groceries provided that no store open for less than 52 hours a week before July 1 could reduce the store hours at all, the intent was that hours of operation should not be curtailed in any way.

Hours of Operation

In other words, while 52 is a set minimum, it was explained that if a store had been operating 60 or more, it should not curtail its time of being open but rather should employ more people to do the work.

"That agreement is a solemn covenant and its purpose is explicit," Johnson said. "The owners of the stores and the customers who buy from these stores should have but one single purpose, which is to carry out this specific provision which has to do with re-employment through reducing the number of hours each employe works and by keeping the stores open as long as possible."

JUDGES AND MAYORS OF TEXAS CALLED TO MEET

Mayor Chas. C. Smith and Judge Jeff T. Kemp have received the following telegram from Governor Ferguson urging them to attend a meeting in Austin Friday to discuss the Relief and Unemployment work in Texas:

"As Governor of Texas I hereby proclaim that a grave emergency exists affecting the continuation of relief to the more than a million destitute citizens of this State. It is therefore my desire that you as a responsible public official attend a council of all such officials of this state for the purpose of devising ways and means to avert the grave consequences which will result in the event of the failure of the passage of the bond issue amendment. This council will be held on the roof of the Austin Hotel at Austin at ten o'clock, a. m., Friday, August 11."

Arizona Is Wet By 3 to 1 Vote And Is 20th State In Line

Arizona has blasted another stone from the constitutional dam that holds black the flow of legal liquor in the United States.

The citizens of the state voted three to one yesterday in favor of repeal of the 18th (prohibition) amendment.

Arizona, christined in honor of its aridity, thus followed the course of 20 other states, which, led by Michigan April 3, have decided against prohibition.

CAMERON LEADERS HEAR NRA ADDRESS AT MEXIA

A delegation from Cameron was present at a called meeting of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce held at Mexia Monday, August 7th at 2 p. m.

Reagan McCreary of Calvert served as chairman of the session and introduced Curtis Morris of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, who gave a resume of conditions which brought about the passage of the National Recovery Act. Co-Operating Grocer Aids NRA; Advertises In The Newspaper

Co-operating with the National Recovery Administration, Green & Boedeker, grocers, have led the way to better business methods in Cameron with a large display advertisement in this issue of the Herald.

One of the cardinal demands of the national plan is to stabilize business, to get back to the fundamentals of merchandising and to outlaw cutthroat competition and to put business on a paying basis. For some time grocery merchants in Cameron have sought to get away from the weekly issuance of circulars. Merchandise was being sold below cost in many instances with the result that business was not stabilized. A profit is necessary to business and every intelligent consumer will recognize that fact, it is pointed out.

These enterprising young merchants are to be congratulated on their progressive step in Cameron. Their store is a fast growing concern and their success is being enhanced by a bid for business at profit through the legitimate channels of the newspaped column.

HY THOMPSON IS SLAIN IN BELTON THURSDAY

Hy Thompson, tried in District court in Milam county in 1928 for the killing of Carlton Fewell in a Belton skating rink, was shot to death between 8 and 9 o'clock this morning on the outskirts of Belton.

Mr. Thompson was sentenced to 35 years in District Court here for the murder of young Fewell. He had been paroled out of prison.

According to information here he was driving into Belton and had parked his car in a park near the city. A man and a woman in another car driving the same road sounded the horn of their machine as Mr. Thompson got out of his car and started to walk away. His attention was attracted and he turned to face the approaching car and was shot with a double barrel shot gun loaded with buckshot. He died instantly. No arrest had been made up to noon.

Thompson was twice tried in Belton for the killing of Carlton Fewell. The killing occured on February 16, 1928. He was given a prison sentence and the case was reversed. The next trial resulted in a hung jury and the case on change of venue was sent to Milam county, where he received a 35 year sentence. He was defended by Judge W. G. Gillis, which was prior to his election as district judge. Thompson testified that he slew the young man because of his daughter who was found in company with Fewell on the night of the killing.

After Gulf Storm Swept Across Rio Grande Valley

Here is a scene at the Brownsville airport after a tropical storm roared in off the Gulf to do $1,500,000 damage to the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas. A number of planes in two hangars were damaged. Property from Port Isabel to Mercedes was damaged by the storm. It is estimated that cotton and citrus fruit were damaged about a million dollars. Only one life was lost, that of a farmer trying to tie up a calf during the storm. His horse fell in and crushed him.

Rescued Castaway

Here is John A. Dann, who survived the ordeal of 11 days drifting across the Gulf of Mexico, only to learn on his bed in a Corpus Christi hospital that federal officers in Florida have ordered him held for narcotic and alien smuggling. At sea Dann, with his partner, William W. Bell, encountered a storm. Their boat overturned and all water and food was lost. Bell committed suicide, Dann said, after he went insane from drinking salt water. Sharks followed the boat all the time, and Bell fell into the shark-infested water when he killed himself.

relieved by Black-Draught

"I decided to take Thedford's Black-Draught, as I had been having bilious spells," writes Mr. Charles E. Stevens, of Columbus, Ind. "When I get bilious, I feel sleepy and tired and do not feel like doing my work. It is hard to tell how I feel, but I do not feel good. I get awfully dizzy. I know then that I had better take something. After I found how good Black-Draught is, that is what I have used. I guess it rids me of the bile, for I feel better—don't feel like I am dropping off to sleep every time I sit down. That, to me, is a very bad feeling."

Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

"A funny bird is the pelican His beak holds more than his belly can."

Here is Captain John M. Werner of the Yacht Captina, at Port Lavaca, Texas, proving this age-old phrase. The pelican was killed at Port O'Conner and Captain Werner poured sixteen quarts of water into the beak, just to see how much it would hold. Through the night comes a call for help

THE alarm bell on the switchboard at Miss Freeman's head tinkled as the hands of the clock reached 4 one morning.

"Operator? Send Dr. Palmer out right away. We live four miles west, you know."

Miss Freeman was ringing the doctor when she noticed a reflection against the sky. The doctor didn't answer. What was wrong? Was that a fire in the north of town?

She stepped to the window. That shed by the Black place was on fire. It was out by the road away from the house. It would burn before the firemen could get there.

As she tried to ring the doctor again, Miss Freeman realized that his telephone line had burned. Perhaps a life was in peril. She called a neighbor. No answer. At last a sleepy voice, two blocks down the street, said . . .

"Hullo?"

"Will you call Dr. Palmer, please. His telephone isn't working. An emergency call. The Bamberger home. Four miles west." *

Miss Freeman smiled at an item in the Hillsdale notes of the local paper the next week:

> "Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bamberger are the proud parents of a 9-pound son, born last Friday morning . . ."

The telephone is ready day or night . . . in case of fire . . . to call the doctor . . . to order a part for a machine . . . to get the price for eggs . . . to visit friends.

You can buy few things which cost so little and are worth so much.

*A true story.

them. Delegates present were then allowed to present their several problems and Mr. Crampton gave opinions as to how various lines of industry are to be governed.

W. I. (Billy) Clark of the local rehabilitation relief commission took notes on the meeting and it is suggested that any one who is in business and has a problem concerning the NRA might see him for an explanation of the point as received by him at the meeting.

The purpose of the meeting was to emphasize that all persons be loyal to the President in his endeavor to bring about national prosperity. It was explained that no person will be expected to close his place of business because of hardships worked by the Recovery Act.

Motion was carried unanimously to ask the legislature to suspend the anti-trust laws of Texas in so far as they conflict with the President's program for national recovery. Similar action has been taken by every meeting called by sectional meetings of the Chamber of Commerce.

Those attending the meeting from Milam county were: Rev. J. P. Love, Administrator of Relief in Milam County; J. M. Weid of Rockdale, Vice Chairman of Emergency Relief Work in this county; L. Van Perkins, President of the Chamber of Commerce and W. I. Clark, Assistant Administrator of Relief.

MEMORY'S LANE

There's a long, long trail leading back through the years,
Leading back to the time I was born:
It is brightened with smiles and moistened with tears,
Up and down life's hill from it's morn.

Often I travel the trail through the yester years
Leading back to my mother's knee,
And again hear the stories she would tell
And the songs she would sing to me.

Father would sit with his long stemmed pipe,
Content in the evening glow;
And heaven was near it seems to me now
In the days of the long ago.

Oft I travel this trail through the long, long years,
And often it leads me afar,
And just when I'm tired and weary with strife
It stops at the old cookie jar.

Or again it goes winding all through the shelves,
Always loaded with jellies and jams,
When my appetites sated of these I would turn
To the good old pumpkin yam.

The days grow long and the sun is hot,
Nor is there the breath of a breeze,
Then we boys hie ourselves to the old swimming hole
In the shade of the sheltering trees.

Here's One Good Way To

END AGONY OF NEURITIS

Newark Man Knows How and Loses 10 Pounds

"Gentlemen: I used Kruschen Salts to try and get rid of Neuritis from which I had suffered for one year in my left shoulder and arm. . . . I took a little of the salts in the morning, sometimes in my coffee, other times in water. I would also occasionally take a dose in water at night before retiring. For 3 months I used the salts and while I lost 10 pounds in weight, the pain in my shoulder HAS ENTIRELY DISAPPEARED. During the time I was taking the salts I received no other medical treatment so I am fully convinced the Kruschen Salts did the trick." C. K. Murray, Newark, N. J.

Take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning—a jar lasts 4 weeks—get it at any druggist in the world—costs but a trifle.

Fall Gardens May Be Success Same as Spring 4-H Club Workers Say; Plans Are Given by Group for These Plots

The fall gardens of carrots, beans, cabbage, cauliflower, beets, lettuce, and other vegetables may be made as successful as the spring garden plot, concludes the Milam County 4-H Pantry Demonstrators. The fall garden serves as a means of rounding out the pantry, as well as furnishing fresh garden products for the family until frost.

Since the recent rains, supplying sufficient moisture, many fall gardens are being started throughout the county. Surface irrigation may prove quite effective if an abundant water supply is available, but in many instances, sub-irrigation with home made tiles are found to be of great value during drouth periods. Plans and information regarding sub-irrigation by use of the concrete tile may be secured from the farm or home agent's office.

The fall garden plot should be cleared of all spring garden plants and weeds before plowing. The plowing under of this plant material tends to draw the moisture from the surface and prevents seed from securing moisture for germination, and later becomes a bother in cultivation. If fertilizer is needed, manure may be used, but more immediate returns may be obtained from the use of commercial fertilizer.

What to plant and when to plant are questions asked by many gardeners, and in answer to these questions the following information prepared by J. F. Roseborough, horticulturist of Texas Extension Service is submitted:

TWO THOUSAND PATIENTS GET NEW LEASE ON LIFE IN W. O. W. TUBERCULAR HOSPITAL

The W. O. W. Hospital at San Antonio

Nationally Known Sanitarium Celebrates Tenth Anniversary

The tenth anniversary of the Woodmen of the World War Memorial Hospital at San Antonio, Texas, is being observed this month by the hundreds of camps of the organization in many sections of the United States, according to De E. Bradshaw, president.

The hospital, which is a sanitarium for those afflicted with tuberculosis has been a sanctuary for W. O. W. policyholders since the first patient was received August 1, 1923. Since that time about 2,000 patients have been treated without cost to them and many of them restored to normal health. The capacity of the sanitarium is 200. The daily average of patients is 127 which means that, as a rule, there always is additional space for those of the association who are eligible for admission.

Show Place in San Antonio.

The hospital is situated on a beautifully landscaped tract of land, which is regarded as one of the show places of San Antonio.

The financial future of the institution has been provided for in an endowment of $2,500,000 in bonds set aside for the cost of maintenance. Interest from these bonds is used in the purchase of all supplies needed for its upkeep. The total value of the hospital plant and real estate is estimated at more than half a million dollars.

A jersey herd of more than 100 head provides all of the milk for the patients while much of the meat comes from the hospital stock farm. Rabbits, chickens, turkeys, geese, and ducks also are raised.

Religious Services Broadcast.

A five-acre park adjoining the hospital with large beds of flowers provides an ideal recreational center, supplemented by the William Alexander Fraser chapel where concerts, public meetings, lectures and religious services are held. A loud speaker located high in the chapel's tower is used to broadcast the religious services to patients unable to leave their rooms.

In reviewing the 10-year history of the hospital, President Bradshaw urged all members of the association suffering from tuberculosis to take advantage of the free hospitalization service.

Dr. C. J. Koerth is medical superintendent; Mrs. A. E. Hewson, superintendent of nurses; Mrs. Myrtle Petersen, purchasing agent, and Judge E. D. Henry, agricultural director.

The Woodmen of the World is the largest fraternal life insurance association in the world with assets of more than $113,000,000. W. O. W. has a very large membership in Texas as well as a large investment in securities in the state. Its headquarters are in Omaha, Nebraska, where it operates Radio Station WOW.

De E. Bradshaw, who was re-elected president, is deeply interested in W. O. W. hospital.

Port Isabel Scene After Gulf Storm

The storm hit the southern tip of Texas and made a path as far west as Mercedes through the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Note the wreckage along the water line in the photo.

Relief Funds for Texas; Money Will Depend On Bonds

AUSTIN—Allotment of $2,377,000 to Texas by the Federal government to relieve unemployment distress during August was announced today by Aubrey Williams of Washington, representing the federal emergency relief administrator.

An additional appropriation for distribution in the areas hard hit by drouth will likely be made available during the month, bringing Texas' total allotment to more than $2,500,000, Williams said.

Failure of Texas to approve a constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to issue $20,000,000 in unemployment relief bonds will result in Texas being taken off the list of states receiving aid from the federal government, Williams said. The proposed amendment will be voted on at a special election Aug. 26.

Federal funds are being advanced in anticipation of favorable action on the bond issue, Williams said. The government has adopted a policy of withdrawing aid from states that refuse to aid in relief work, he added.

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson issued a proclamation designating Friday "food and hunger day." She urged Texans to meet in their respective county seats, "to discuss with each other ways and means to prevent starvation and relieve destitution in Texas in the next twelve months."

12,314,000 BALE CROP COTTON IS ESTIMATED

Wshington—A government estimate of 12,314,000 bale cotton crop for this year added difficulty today to plans of farm administration officials to whittle down the surplus.

The official estimate by the crop reporting board was well above most private reports which had forecast a crop of less than 12,000,000 bales, but in view of the orderly market decline officials took comfort from the indicated result of the acreage reduction campaign.

This was disclosed in the crop reporting board's estimate that 5,247,000 bales which would have gone to the gins have been or will be plowed under because of the administration's acreage slash efforts.

Weather Good

Otherwise the government production report would have been 16,531,000 bales, exceeded only by the 17,096,000 in 1931 and crops of one or two earlier years.

Unusually fine weather brought the condition of the crop on Aug. 1 up to 74.2 per cent of normal, almost 10 per cent higher than on Aug. 1 last year and far above the 10-year average of 67.9 per cent.

The indicated yield of 198.4 lint pounds per acre for 1933 is the highest since 1914, with the exception of 211.5 in 1931, the year that witnessed a cotton price slump to about five cents a pound.

Farm Estimates Low

The reduction estimate which showed that approximately 10,304,000 acres had been taken out of production also showed that the southern farmers who agreed to plow up their cotton were low in their estimates of its potential production this year.

Officials said, however, there would be no additional payment because the acres reduced might have yielded over 4,000,000 bales instead of the 3,500,000 which the farm administration had figured on. The contracts are already in effect and it was pointed out that the farmers production was made by taking an average over a period of years.

Helped By Cardui

Here's the true story of how Cardui helped Mrs. H. E. Dunaway, of McComb, Miss., as written by herself:

"I was sick and rather discouraged. I was so weak and thin, I was not able to do my work as it should be done. This made me fret a good deal, and did not help my condition.

"I had pains across my back and lower part of my body. My nights were spent in rolling from one side of the bed to the other, hoping I would soon go to sleep. Then when morning would come, I would be just as tired as when I went to bed. A neighbor, seeing how badly I felt, told me to try Cardui. After I had taken one bottle, I was much better. I kept on taking Cardui, and I was stronger and slept much better at night."

SOCIETY

GARDEN PARTY

Outstanding in beauty and interest was the garden party given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Lena Baskin and daughters, Misses Clyde and Dinks Baskin and Mrs. Bill Baskin at the home of Mrs. Lena Baskin, naming as honor guest Miss Sue Griffin Webb of Morehead City, N. C. who is the house guest of the Misses Baskin.

A dainty pink and green color scheme was carried out with ferns and summer flowers in baskets, bowls and vases, lending added beauty to the natural scenery of the garden.

Miss Dinks Baskin and Miss Webb greeted the callers, who enjoyed renewing old time friendship with the popular honoree who for several years made her home in Cameron with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Webb before going to North Carolina.

Misses Harriett Flinn, Billie Gaither, Bonnell Neinast, Mary Frances Young and Gladys were members of the house party. Miss Davis presided at the punch bowl that rested on a table laid with pretty lace cover while chosen flowers added floral adornment to the cozy corner where punch was served.

Dainty refreshments that carried out the color scheme were served with mints, to the many who called during receiving hours.

Out of town guests other than the honoree were Misses Florine and Louise Stocklas and Elizabeth Green of Rosebud.

BRIDGE PARTY

A pleasant affair of last week was given by Miss Cora Barmore Thursdy afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Barmore, when she entertained with four tables of contract bridge.

Attractive novelty spinning wheels in graduated sizes were given as trophies for scores. Highest was made by Miss Gladys Copus, second highest by Miss Mozelle Bigbee and lowest by Miss Arnette Ryan.

Misses Geraldine Slaughter and Nancy Rea Slocomb assisted the hostess in serving a salad course with tea, on game tables that had been laid with dainty covers and centered with bowls of opalescent colored dwarf zenias.

CHURCH HONORS FOR MISS MOLLIE MOORE

Miss Mollie Moore was honored Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock services at the Methodist church by the Mollie Moore Bible Class, the Missionary Society and other friends.

Sunday marked the 51st anniversity of her membership in the Methodist church in Cameron. Miss Mollie has been decorating the church each Saturday for Sunday, a plesure she hs enjoyed for years. The Missionary Society asked the privilege of decorating on Saturday, and decorated in her honor. She also has the pleasure of preparing the emblems of bread and wine for the Lord's Supper, and after taking care of the emblems and glasses after the services, upon her return to her home found a large birthday cake topped with 51 golden candles in her room awaiting her. By the side of the cake was a box that contained a Love Offering.

A few years ago Miss Mollie was voted the outstanding citizen of Cameron for having devoted her time and personal work to all who needed it. She was also voted an honorary member of the Business & Professional Women's Club.

At Sunday morning services there were several members whose names were called who had served this church. Among them were: Mrs. Martha Rogers, mother of Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp, who joined the church here in 1869. She will be 90 years old the 10th of September this year. Sam Brooks joined the same day and later Mrs. Jennie Ross became a member, and Miss Mollie was next in joining. Judge Jeff T. Kemp and Mrs. Mattie English joined 48 years ago, and T. C. Here's Huge Red River Dam Which Government May Approve

This is an artist's conception of the dam across the Red River 14 miles north of Sherman, Texas, which may result from the work of the Red River Flood Control association. The project would cost approximately $36,500,000 and would be a part of the federal public works program. If completed, the dam would be 11,000 feet long, 160 feet high. It would inundate 190,000 acres and have a shoreline of 1,000 miles. Normal mean average of power developed would be 40,000 kilowatts.

BOND ISSUE

mittees and our cities and the problem of caring for hundreds and thousands of people will prove too great a burden.

Not Property Tax

The bonds will not place an additional tax upon property. No advalorem will be levied to secure sinking fund and interest. The bonds, if issued, shall not be a lien upon property. If they are issued, payment of interest and principal on them shall be provided for in some other way than through property taxation. The present state tax rate is at its constitution limit, because of the $3,000 homestead exemption law and reduced valuations.

Vital To Texas

If the people in Texas indicate by their vote on this amendment that they do not want further Federal aid, we may lose many millions of dollars that would otherwise be expended, or projects financed under the National Recovery Act, and Texas will be thrown out of step with the entire National Recovery program.

In voting for this amendment remember:

1. You will not increase your property taxes.

2. You are not voting a bond issue, but you are giving the legislature power to meet an emergency.

3. You will make it possible to continue to receive Federal funds in Texas for relief.

4. You will possibly be preventing serious social disturbances and possible revolution.

5. You will keep Texas in line with the National Recovery Program of President Roosevelt.

UNTIL WE LEARNED BETTER

Until we learned better, we used to mix wood and steel in our car bodies and wheels.

It was the best way to make bodies--then. But the state of the art has advanced.

Of course, it is more expensive to make an all-steel body than to make a wooden frame and nail steel panels on to it. The better way involves an initial expenditure of several millions of dollars for new dies, which renders a change very costly. Cars, especially large expensive cars which are produced in small volume, cannot afford this, because the dies cost as much for one car as for a million. That alone explains why all-steel bodies are not used in all cars.

But our basic policy from the beginning is to make a good car better, regardless of cost.

For example, when we discarded wood-steel body construction, it was not because we lacked wood. We still have some thousands of acres of the best hard wood in America. Economy would urge us to use up the wood first, and then adopt the better all-steel body. But we decided that quality was more important than expense.

We weighed the reasons, for and against, before we made the change.

We could see only one reason for retaining a mixed wood-and-steel body --nailing the metal on, instead of welding an all-steel body into a strong one-piece whole. That reason was, it would be cheaper--for us.

Our reasons for adopting an all-steel body were these: A wood-steel body is not much stronger structurally than its wooden frame. In all American climates, wood construction weakens with age. Every used car lot gives evidence of this. Rain seeps in between joints and the wood decays. A car may have a metal surface, and yet not be of steel construction. Under extreme shock or stress the steel body remains intact--dented perhaps, but not crushed.

Steel does not need wood for strength or protection. Wood is fine for furniture, but not for the high speed vehicles of 1933.

In the Ford body there are no joints to squeak, no seams to crack or leak.

The all-steel body is more expensive—to us, but not to you.

By all odds, then, steel bodies seem preferable.
